The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

KraneShares CSI China Internet UCITS ETF Class EUR Shares

KraneShares CSI China Internet UCITS ETF (the “Fund”)

Class EUR Shares (ISIN: IE00BFXR7900) (the “Class”)

A sub-fund of KraneShares ICAV (the “ICAV”). The Fund is managed by Waystone Management Company (IE) Limited (the “Manager”).

Objectives and investment policy

The Fund seeks to deliver the performance of publically traded China-based companies whose main business are in the Internet and Internet-related sectors. The Fund is passively managed and will seek to achieve its objective by tracking the performance of the CSI Overseas China Internet Index (the “Index”) as closely as possible.

The Fund invests primarily in securities which are included in the Index. These consist of China-related equity securities which are issued and traded outside of China. However, the Fund may also invest in securities issued and traded in China.

The Fund seeks to hold all the securities of the Index with the approximate weightings that they have in the Index. The Fund will seek to create a near mirror image of the Index but may, in certain circumstances purchase securities that are not included in the Index. The Fund does not intend to use financial derivative instruments. Although the Index is generally well diversified, because of the market it reflects, depending on market conditions, the Fund may, in order to track the Index accurately, hold positions in individual constituents of the Index up to 20% of the Fund's Net Asset Value.

The Sub-Fund's investment policy and the nature of the Index means that the Investment Manager will not generally be able to take Sustainability Risks into account in making investment decisions.

Save in exceptional circumstances, the Fund will only issue and redeem shares of the Fund (“Shares”) to certain institutional investors.

However, other investors may purchase or sell Shares through brokers on one or more stock exchanges. The Shares trade on these stock exchanges at market prices which may fluctuate throughout the day. Market prices may be greater or less than the daily net asset value of the Fund.

The Fund may engage in securities lending but does not intend to use repurchase agreements or total return swaps.

The Fund may invest up to 10% of its net asset value in other regulated collective investment schemes, including other exchange traded funds.

Shareholders may redeem Shares on any business day (a day on which commercial banks are open and settle payments in London and New York, including days on which such commercial banks are open only half a day) and any other day at the Directors' discretion provided Shareholders are notified in advance. A list of dealing days for the Fund is published on <https://kraneshares.eu/>.

The Fund's base currency is U.S. Dollar and the class currency of this Class is Euro.

The Fund's income will be reinvested and the Fund does not intend to declare dividends.

Please refer to the ICAV's prospectus and the supplement in respect of the Fund for more information.

Risk and reward profile

Lower risk Higher risk

Typically lower rewards

Typically higher rewards

The risk category above is not a measure of capital loss or gains but of how significant the rises and falls in the Fund's return are predicted to be.

- The risk reward category shown is based on historic data which may not be a reliable indication for future performance of the Fund.
- The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may shift over time.
- The higher the category, the greater potential for reward, but also the greater the risk of losing the investment.
- The lowest category does not mean risk free.
- The Fund is in category 7. The Fund is in this category due to the nature of its investments and their recent price volatility. This means that the Shares may be subject to significant increases and decreases in price.

Significant risks for the Fund not taken into account in this indicator include the following:

- Concentration Risk: In seeking to track the Index, the Fund will focus its investments in particular economic and/or geographical areas and may contain a small number of positions which represent relatively large proportions of the Fund's assets. In each case, issues affecting these area or securities will have a greater effect on the Fund than if its investments were more widely diversified. This concentration may also limit the Shares liquidity.

- Index Tracking Risk: The Fund's performance may not track the Index exactly. This can result from market fluctuations, changes in the composition of the Index, transaction costs, the costs of making changes to the Fund's portfolio and other Fund expenses.
- Liquidity Risk: In stressed market conditions, the nature of the Fund's assets may result in the Fund not being able to process all redemption requests in line with its usual procedures and timeframes.
- China Risk: Investments in China may involve a higher risk of financial loss than investments in more developed countries.
- Emerging Market Risk: Emerging markets are likely to bear higher risk due to lower liquidity and possible lack of adequate, legal, social, political and economic structures, protection and stability as well as uncertain tax positions.
- ETF Specific Risk: The Sub-Fund tracks the performance of the Index. As a result, the net asset value of the Sub-Fund's assets is directly dependent on the performance of the Index. Losses that could be avoided via active management will not be offset.
- Equity Risk: The value of equity securities may go down as well as up in response to the performance of individual companies and general market conditions, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably. If a company goes through bankruptcy or a similar financial restructuring, its shares in issue typically lose most or all of their value.

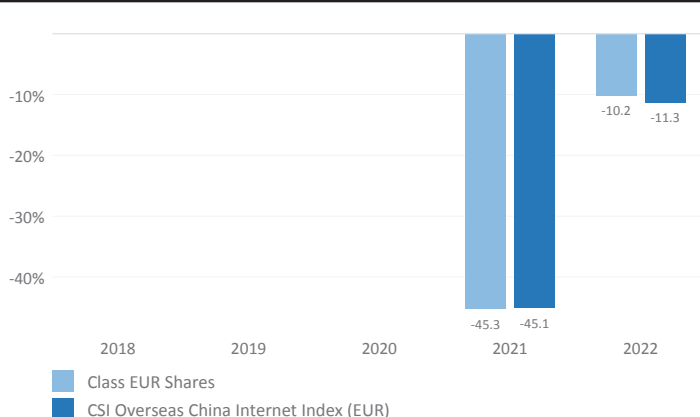

For full details of the relevant risks reference should be made to the risk factors sections of the prospectus and supplement.

Charges

The charges you pay are used to pay the costs of running the Fund, including the costs of marketing and distributing it. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investment.

One-off charges taken before or after you invest		The entry and exit charges shown are maximum figures.
